

The body has many different parts working together. The church is like a body, it has many different people using different gifts working together.

